

People

The BWS company structure is made up of Directors, Associate Directors, Managing Surveyors and Senior Quantity Surveyors and Project Managers. A technical lead is based in each of our offices together with senior personnel, many of which specialise in specific market sectors. Our key people are not only managers but are also involved in the technical delivery thereby monitoring and ensuring strict quality control.

Wherever they are based, all have world-wide experience and most of our Middle East staff have worked throughout the whole region. In this way, we are able to allocate individuals to projects which may require particular skills or knowledge.
